7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. A Near Perfect GiftBy Daniel HoeraufLong had I spent trying to improve my war re-enactment scenarios through authentic cooking, but this book was the first one that allowed me to truly follow my dreams. Other books i have found espousing "Civil War" cooking fail to take into account the true nature of the War Between States, and get lost in the actual cooking, rather than the history behind it. This book deals with both perfectly, interjecting delightful cooking recipes between descriptions of Lincoln's attempted bastardization of The South. The recipes listed in this book are perfect for any occasion, whether you're at a klan meeting, trying to impress that favorite cousin, or just lounging around, there exists the perfect recipe to both enjoy yourself and separate your cooking from the tasteless yanks. Despite all the pros, I can only give this book four stars, because it's simply taken over my life. War re-enactment went from a fun thing to do on the weekends to a every day event. I got fired from my job for "attempting to stab a customer with a bayonet unprovoked" and my family left me for what they called "blowing our savings on a replica cannon." This is who I am now. All I can do is cook.

Baking Recipes From the Wives Mothers of Civil War Heroes, Heroines Other Notables is a unique collection of special recipes dating from the Civil War period of our history. It's a practical baking book as well as the modern person's guide to authentic baking recipes from the Civil War period. These recipes were popular, or at least regularly used before, during and just after the Civil War or War Between the States. Can you resist baking and devouring a skillet of Spider Corn Cake as it was served to the family of President of the Confederate States of America, Jefferson Davis? Maybe you'd prefer to whip up a batch of delightful Yeast Rolls favored by General Nathan Bedford Forrest? And be sure to try General Robert E. Lee's favorite Huckleberry Pancakes? Each recipe is an authentic updated family recipe from the terrible period of the American Civil War.. .

About the Author Robert W. Pelton proudly claims a heritage going all the way back to well before the War for American Independence. One of Mr. Pelton's ancestors, John Rogers, came to America on the Mayflower and was one of 41 signers of the Mayflower Compact. Another, John Smith was one of the founders of Jamestown. Peleg Pelton served as the fifer in the Continental Army at age 18 during the Battle of Saratoga (1777) and again in Yorktown (1781). Captain Peter Hager was Commander of the Old Stone Fort in Schoharie, New York, in 1780. Another, Captain Bezaleel Tyler fought in the only Revolutionary War Battle taking place in Sullivan County, New York. Here he fought against Mohawk Chief Thayendeneges, who was also known by the name of Joseph Brant, Mr. Pelton is a member of Sons of the Revolution (SOR), and Sons of the American Revolution (SAR).
