DunnRobin Copper Benzle has a wonderful sense of humor and really expresses it in this book! I play a crazy character called, "Pauline Perkwater," on the radio and sometimes on TV. Ms Perkwater is supposed to be an excellent home economist with unusual recipes. I'm able to use some of Robin's outlandish dishes (giving her full credit of course), and even add a few things of my own, like pop corn.The cartoon artwork in this book by George Kocar is hilarious! He really accentuates Robin's outlandish dishes with his cartoons! By the way, her recipes may sound crazy, such as "Wild Boar in a Blanket," but they are actually good! I highly recommend this book if you're looking for an unusual recipe and a GOOD LAUGH! If you ever hear Pauline Perkwater on the radio, you'll more than likely hear one of Robin Copper Benzle's recipe's. You'll wish it was TV so you could see George Kocar's cartoons as well!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Happy to have a freshBy LoreneI know the author. Just as the Title Says the recipes are greatBy MaryMaryQuiteCulinaryI received the cookbook as a wedding gift in 1993 and I still go back to it over and over again. Now that my kids are 13, 9, 7, they get a kick out reading the recipes to Mom. My copy has crayon scribbles, grease drips, chocolate drops and god knows what else strewn about the pages, which is a sign of a well used cookbook.(That or just a sloppy cook!) Our favorite, Liar's Chicken Wellington! The humor is great and brings the joy back to cooking. This is a great gift to anyone for any occasion. I am buying several copies just to keep on hand!!!
