It is well organized and has jokes on almost every imaginable subject. I entertained my friends on a weekend getaway by reading from this book. Well worth the money. And in case you are wondering, the jokes in this book are mostly inoffensive. This is not a crude book. 4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. A cheap laugh By Phillip Jenkins Everyone's sense of humor is different. I find the majority of the jokes in this book to be not that funny. Nevertheless, out of the six thousand jokes there were at least six hundred that made me laugh. That's good enough for me. I bought the book to send my fiance who is working abroad a joke a day by email so the book has worked for me. The book is thick almost five hundred pages so I am sure you will find plenty to laugh about. People in previous reviews have complained about the small print and yes, the print is small but certainly readable. I just see it as "more for your money". 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. he isn't a reader (I've tried everything but he just doesn't like to read books) but he loves telling dumb dad ...By Karin M Gagnon So I bought this for my husband .. he isn't a reader (I've tried everything but he just doesn't like to read books) but he loves telling dumb dad jokes .. well now he picks this book up all the time to find new dumb dad jokes .. it's Great! I Love the fact that he's reading and the jokes are cute

Man Walks Into A Bar is a one-stop shop for anyone who likes to hear and tell jokes. The jokes are ordered thematically - wives, husbands, doctors, lawyers, the French, the Germans, jokes about nuns, jokes about monkeys, the lot. There are also regular panels which group jokes by type too - Essex girls, changing a lightbulb etc. Our material will turn you into the toast of your local pub or make you loathed in your own home - remember, it is all in the telling. From the sublimely erudite to stuff Frank Carson would turn down (the book has a 'world's worst jokes' section), this book can service you with every joke you'll ever need. What do you call an eskimo chav? Innuinnit What did the zen student say at the hamburger stand? Make me one with everything What's Irish and lives in the garden? Paddy O'Furniture
